Pageant Highlights Patriot's Day

Features of pageant which opened the Patriot's Day observance here and was presented before large crowds. Above, home of Deacon Adams, where British redcoats threatened bedridden occupant, set fire to furniture only to have children beneath bed extinguish the flames. Mrs. Rhona Frenh, Francis O'Hara, John Sullivan and William McAlduff.

In the lower picture, the finale of the grand pageant shows the Campfire Girls, Boy and Girl Scouts, Veteran of All Wars, American Legion Post, Menotomy Pageant Players and the entire cast saluting grandfather E. Stanley Eeck, Hartley Noble, and Elizabeth Center, who took major roles in the pageant.

Patriot's Day Highlights

Congratulations must be extended to those organizations who worked so hard to enter such wonderful floats. Most of them were outstanding, and they were real highlights of the entire parade. We heard many queries about the beautiful young lady who occupied the throne on the Town of Arlington float. The "Americanism Not Communism" float; the "Peace with Prayer" entry; and the Park Department floats received special commendation in our section of the audience.

The youngsters (tiniest) were much impressed by the "Indians"—the Red Men from Wakefield, who added a realistic touch to the entire event.

One comment sounded our keynote of the entire celebration here. We heard coming from a Lexington bound vehicle. "They'll have to be pretty good in Lexington to equal Arlington's performance."

As is usual, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Cubs and the Brownies are to be congratulated for a mass turnout. If every parade unit could get as wonderful a response from its members, the parades would take three times as long to pass by. They showed plenty of pep all the way too.

Drum majorettes always amaze us. Despite the weather conditions, they seem to thrive in their somewhat abbreviated costumes. One lady really looked as though she could have used some long red flannels, however, as her legs showed the effects of the balmy breezes.

The natty appearance of the Knights of Columbus units in formal attire brought many cheery comments from the pleased watchers. They were really sharp. And incidentally, it was our opinion that more people had a good view of the Arlington Patriot's Day parade than any such line of march we have ever viewed.

The police department did an excellent job of handling the traffic which poured into Arlington for the Wednesday morning affair. Many of our neighbors planned to take in the Arlington event in the morning and the Lexington or Concord parades later in the day. Nevertheless, even after the parade, there was no great congestion, and the situation was cleared with amazing ease. Just part of the great job turned in by everyone connected with the entire observance, from beginning to end.

The general feeling of satisfaction and approval which permeated the atmosphere during the celebration would have been less evident in some quarters if the decision to take the parade to Lake Street had not been reached. With the same spirit that characterized their elders some 175 years back, a determined committee of East End citizens asked the powers that be to stretch the parade from Wyman to Lake, and their determination might have extended to terrific lengths but for the wise decision to meet their request.

DEDICATION

Wednesday noon, after Paul Revere had left for Lexington, The Daughters of the American Revolution presented to the Town a plaque commemorating all of the Revolutionary heroes who fought on those historic days, from 1775 to 1783.

The tablet, a large bronze plaque some three feet long and two feet wide was presented by Mrs. John S. Sampson present regent of the DAR. It read:

TO PERPETUATE THE MEMORY OF THE SACRIFICES OF HEROISM OF THE MEN OF OLD MENOTOMY WHO STRUGGLED AND DIED TO ACHIEVE FREEDOM IN THE WAR OF INDEPENDENCE 1775-1783

Joseph A. Purcell, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, accepted the plaque for the Town, thanked the regent of the DAR, and said the memorial would be placed in the Library.

Mrs. Sampson in her address to the small gathering said, "It is hoped that we will soon have a sister plaque with the names of all those who gave their lives in this historic battle."

The meeting was held in the hall of the Robbins Library and was attended by Representative Henry E. Keenan, the Board of Selectmen, representatives from many of Arlington's organizations and the members of the Patriot's Day committee.

John Kelley Comes In Fifth

The many friends of former Arlingtontian Johnny Kelley, number one American marathoner of the last decade, were pleased to hear yesterday that he was fifth in the annual B A A. marathon.

Although the Korean's dominated the race, Johnny was right up there all the way, and the popular West Actonite, running in the color of the Boston Edison Employee's Club, was a popular finisher.

MILITARY BALL

The Military Ball, one of the highlighting features of the four day Patriot's Day extravaganza, Tuesday night, was one of the most colorful spectacles ever held within the boundaries of the Old Town of Menotomy.

The ball commenced at 9:00 p.m. following the band concert by the U. S. Marine Corps band at the High School.

Members of the Band were taken to the Town Hall after their concert, where they were welcomed by Town celebrities, Firemen, Policemen, Veterans and just plain folks all decked out in their Sunday best.

Expectancy was the keynote of the dancing for the first two hours as Paul Revere and William Dawes were making their historic ride from Boston and being due at the Town Hall at 11:00 p.m.

Then the hour drew near; and ten minutes before their arrival word was flashed by radio to the Town Hall that the riders were in Medford. Tuxedos, evening dress and uniform flocked out of the hall to the plaza in front which was lit up by lights from the special service truck of the Boston Fire Department.

Television camera, radio commentators, photographers, reporters and some 2,000 people were on hand to greet the two riders as they galloped up Massachusetts avenue at 11:30 p.m. This was the first re-enactment of the midnight ride since 1775.

Both men rode to the reviewing stand where they were greeted by Joseph Purcell, chairman of the Board of Selectmen and other Town dignitaries.

In welcome Mr. Purcell said, As chairman and on behalf of the Board of Selectmen and the citizens of the Town of Arlington, I welcome you tonight as you re-enact the immortal rides of Paul Revere and William Dawes as they aroused our colonial ancestors of Middlesex County to the impending attack by the British soldiers

FIREWORKS

Thousands of people witnessed a gigantic fireworks display, a band concert and the presentation of prizes to the winners of the Patriot's Day essay competition, conducted in Arlington junior high schools, as the 175th celebration of Patriot's Day officially closed Wednesday evening.

The Arlington Academy of Music began their program at 7:30 on the night of April 19th. The program opened with the 35 piece band under the direction of Frank E. Ward, dean of the academy, playing the "American Patrol". This selection was followed by renditions of "Under the Double Eagle", Selections from "Carousel" and "South Pacific", "Andalucia"; "Il Guareny Overture"; and then an added attraction, the Jesters, popular instrumental trio, and John Gonsalves and Mark Stimpson, vocalists.

Following the concert, the winners of the essay competition, on the subject "The Significance of Patriot's Day in America", were introduced. Each received a book, the gift of the Auxiliary Marine Corps League, The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The presentation of the prizes auxiliaries.

PARADE

Wednesday morning, celebrating the 175th anniversary of the battle for independence, 55,000 people watched the most spectacular and colorful parade held in a quarter of a century went its way from Appleton street, in Arlington Heights to Lake street in East Arlington.

The parade started promptly at 9:30 led by the Arlington Police escort with Lt. Ferdinand Lucarelli in command. Immediately following was Chief Marshall Joseph Peterson, The Board of Selectmen and the honorary staff including Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers, General William H. Harrison, Adjutant General of the Commonwealth and Colonel John Freeman, Commanding Officer of Bedford Airport.

Governor Paul Dever, who was supposed to have led the parade, could not attend because he was hurriedly called to attend a funeral in Boston.

The marchers swung down Massachusetts avenue to the reviewing stand housing the Honorary Staff and Board of Selectmen. The first

Marine Band Concert Tuesday High Light

Tuesday night prior to the military ball, thousands of people flocked to the Warren A. Pierce Stadium to hear a magnificent concert by the United States Marine Corps band, sent here by an act of Congress to participate in the festivities accompanying the 175th anniversary of Patriot's Day.

People began arriving for the concert, the first of its kind in many a decade, early in the evening by seven o'clock traffic was jammed back to Arlington center.

The band, situated on a stand in the middle of the gridiron commenced its program with the Star Spangled Banner. This was followed by renditions of, 1. "March For Americans", by Grafe; 2. Overture, "Force of Destiny", Verdi; 3. Euphonium Solo by Eghardt "Hungarian Variations" Arthur Lehman soloist; 4. "American Fantasy", Herbert; 5. Selections from "Porgy

"I Have But One Life"

First and only reported casualty of the 1950 observance of Patriot's Day in Arlington was reported following the pageant at the Town Hall, Monday evening.

William "Bill" McKeever of Menotomy road, playing the part of revolutionary hero William Winship, was the victim. "Bill" was valiantly defending his country against the British, when a blank cartridge exploded behind a "stone wall".

The "hero" of 1950 suffered powder burns on his leg. After first aid treatment and application of bandage, he was able to return to the front line.

FINE ART CLEANERS

"Cleaners of Distinction"

It is a pleasure to include in our business review of those outstanding firms and superior services, as seen thru the eyes of the press, this fine local cleaning firm, the scope and usefulness of whose services have been most valuable to many individuals throughout this entire area, and it can safely be said that their workmanship has indeed been appreciated and has met with the full approval of everyone who has availed themselves of these services.

With an excellent plant located right here in Arlington at 39 Massachusetts Avenue, the Fine Art Cleaners are certainly doing their share in relieving many of us as to our cleansing problems.

In this modern equipped plant, and with the very finest of equipment, it is no particular wonder that the work of this good-going concern is done beautifully at all times. As a matter of fact, you really do not have to hesitate in sending your clothing to the Fine Art Cleaners, even as to your formal garments, because one cardinal rule practiced from the very inception of this cleaning business establishment has been to use only the very finest of supplies essential to this type of business in turning out only the most superior custom finished work, and this holds true in every phase of their services including spotting, dry cleaning and the hand finished work.

The very capable management, who have had years of experience in this field, have surrounded themselves with some of the most efficient and experienced personnel in this industry, so it is not at all surprising therefore that the Fine Art Cleaners is enabled to render such a complete service to so many well-satisfied individuals, and it doesn't matter whether it be the regular, or three hour service, or even upon request their 24 hour service which can be taken care of efficiently because of their free pick-up and delivery service.

The satisfaction of the patrons of this company, week after week and month after month, is the best gauge upon which to judge the outstanding workmanship which is so well performed here, and last but not least at most reasonable prices.

We certainly have no hesitation in recommending the services of the Fine Art Cleaners to all our readers and friends and suggest that you telephone Arlington 5-0035 if in need of fast action. In closing, we want to compliment the management and employees upon the efficiency of their services which they at all times give regardless of whether the work to be done is large or small.

MARYCLIFF ACADEMY

Conducted By The Religious Of Christian Education

We believe that this gives us an excellent opportunity to write about this fine institution and to call to the attention of our readers the merits of the Marycliff Academy located right here within our midst in Winchester, one which we might all be very proud of.

The Marycliff Academy has in the past and is at present doing its part in turning out successful graduates, boys and girls who are very well trained in preparation for the higher schools of learning such as our Universities and Colleges. Placing emphasis on High School Courses, Grammar and Elementary Grades, Boys admitted to the Primary Grades and in the very near future even as to Kindergarten Classes, the Marycliff Academy is admirably fulfilling its function as an outstanding school by providing facilities who through wide experience in specialized fields of endeavor coupled with the ability to most effectively present a particular subject, guides and directs the young student to advance rapidly according to his or her own talents.

We here in Winchester should be particularly cognizant of this fine school of learning and with the very progress of this institution which, in our opinion, will very definitely be a decided asset not only to this community but this entire state as well, especially so with the new improvements now being added on which will include nine classrooms, a library and a cafeteria.

BALL —

one hundred and seventy-five years ago.

At the sound of the alarm the young men of this community marched to Lexington to form part of the organized resistance which has to take place there according to pre-arranged plans but within a few hundred yards of this spot occurred some of the most courageous acts in that day in April long ago. Just a short distance away a group of the old men of Menotomy, the name by which Arlington was then known, men too old to fight, or so people thought, captured a supply train, which was being sent to aid the British, as the battle raged on Lexington Green. Old men of the community—instead of seeking shelter—quickly and spontaneously banded together to harass the invader by every means at their command and in so doing wrote their own illustrious page in the glorious history of the fight for freedom. But a short distance away, an old woman captured six enemy soldiers, and an 80 year old man slew three and wounded two enemy soldiers and lived to tell the tale. A retreat of the British from Lexington and Concord was converted by the men of Menotomy and their neighbors into a complete rout as the British soldiers sought to flee back to Boston. This running battle which was perhaps the severest and bloodiest of the entire day, occurred all along the very ground upon which we stand tonight. Surely this running battle which occurred here on the plains of Menotomy rightfully takes its place beside the never to be forgotten stands at Lexington Green and Concord Bridge, for here in Menotomy we suffered greater casualties and here more of the enemy were wounded and slain.

But we take no jewels from an other crown—we ask no glory that is not rightfully ours—for on that day there was credit and honor enough for all. For in all these battles, it was but a total of a few hundred men who repulsed the invader and struck this first blow for freedom and from this incredible courage and their complete and unselfish devotion to the preservation of human liberties has sprung this mightiest nation on the face of the earth, the only great power in history which has not been an aggressor nation, for we have been faithful to the great legacy bequeathed to us by the patriots who honor tonight and tomorrow. The defense of human freedom and the preservation of human dignity, which these great men held so firmly in their hands a century and three quarters ago and passed down to us has formed the basis of the foreign policy of this great nation during its growth and expansion. Not only have the American people been quick to the protection and defense of our own liberties, but we have been ever zealous in the protection and preservation of the liberties of the smaller and less powerful nations, and thus, we remain faithful to the great trust reposed in us by the men of Menotomy and Lexington and Concord. This trust, this philosophy of government, which is today the hope of the western civilization, can be no more aptly phrased, no more accurately defined than by the very few words which are the motto of our town of Arlington, "The Defense of Liberty is our Ancestral Heritage."

Joseph A. Purcell, Chairman Board of Selectmen

Following the greeting, the riders were supposed to have joined the dance but time prevented this and they rode off immediately on their way to Lexington and Concord to spread the alarm.

The ball continued and after dancing until midnight the dance was concluded by the grand march led by Mrs. Russell Curry and the Board of Selectmen.

IN 1897 A GROUP OF ENTERPRISING MEN CONNECTED WITH THE OLD COLONY RAILROAD FOUNDED THE OLD FALL RIVER LINE. IT WAS FOUNDED BECAUSE THE TRIP FROM FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT TO NEW YORK, EVEN WITH A TRAIN CONNECTION FROM BOSTON, WAS FASTER BY SEA TO NEW YORK. THE BAY STATE, PICTURED ABOVE, WAS THE FIRST STEAMER ON THE LINE. THE TWO 38 FOOT PADDLE WHEELS GAVE THE BAY STATE A TOP SPEED OF ABOUT 19 MILES PER HOUR.

Fire Causes Damage Of $10,000

Sunday night a two alarm fire caused some $10,000 damage and took the life of a small dog as it destroyed the entire first floor of a two story family house owned by Massineo Luongo at 465 Appleton street, Arlington.

The fire started in the pantry at the rear of the first floor. Chief Richard J. Tierney said it was caused by a defective wire connected to a lamp in the pantry.

The first alarm was sounded at 9:24 p.m., the result of a telephone call from Mrs. Flora Bursey, 451 Appleton st., who saw smoke and flames coming out of the windows.

Deputy Lorne McEwen with apparatus from central headquarters arrived at the fire and the deputy immediately sounded a second alarm which brought apparatus from all of Arlington's stations and additional help from Belmont, Lexington and Somerville.

The fire spread rapidly from its starting point through the dining room into the living room onto the front porch and then started up the front stairs. Chief Tierney's men stopped the fire as it started to eat into the second floor.

The all out was sounded at 11:42 just after firemen had discovered a small dog under his master's bed dead from suffocation.

TOWN NOTE

John W. McCarthy of 5 Lewis avenue celebrated his 80th birthday recently at the home of his son, Harold, of Winchester. Mr. McCarthy has been a resident of Arlington for 56 years. His family includes Miss Marion McCarthy, Miss Doris J. McCarthy, Mrs. John Pasquale of Arlington, John T. McCarthy of Lowell, George McCarthy of California and Harold J. McCarthy of Winchester.

Pageant Opens 1950 Patriot's Day Events

The celebration of Patriot's Day 1950 got off to a great start with the pageant play "Menotomy, April 19th, 1775". The players gave four performances each of which played to a capacity house.

Critics have said it was the first time they could remember an accurate presentation of what happened in Arlington (Menotomy) in 1775 aver being presented.

The play put on its first performance Saturday afternoon and although a dress rehearsal, the children of the Town were invited to view it. With screams of delight and the shooting of the Redcoats by the children's cap pistols the company got through its dress rehearsal of Saturday and Sunday with few actual casualties, and on Saturday night the first performance of the pageant was staged.

The play opened with the grandfather (E. Stanley Beck) telling his two children (Hartley Noble and Virginia Center) that although they thought Arlington a dull place he would show them what happened here in the year 1775.

So to the meeting house where Samuel Cooke (Rev. John Nicol Mark) was conducting his Sunday, April 16, 1775, church service. Here the men of Menotomy were told to defend their liberty at all costs. Then the scene changed to the Village green in Arlington center, where a group of children were playing. The children would not allow other children to play with them until they had renounced George III. The scene shifted to Black Horse Tavern in East Arlington where Colonel Lee (Milton C. Paige Jr.), and a group of the Safety Committee had met to plan the defense of Menotomy. The British arrived during the meeting but they escaped.

The pageant then went on to show the minutemen defending Arlington, then scenes from the Jason Russell House, The Russell Store, and a finale staged by the Camp Fire girl scouts, the boy scouts and the Arlington Veteran posts. The orchestra was directed by Leonard Woods, the play by William J. Finn and the Reverend John Nicol Mark was the chairman of the Pageant Committee.

The Pageant Committee was a subdivision of the Patriot's Day committee and was composed of the Reverend John Nicol Mark, chairman, Milton C. Paige, Jr., Mrs. James E. Horrigan, Mrs. David Kennedy, Mrs. Gladys Wilcox, Russell T. Hamlet, Mrs. Edwin F. Booth, Jr., and William J. Finn.

Committee Did Excellent Job

If any of the Red Men who appeared in the Patriot's Day parade have any feathers left over, the Arlington Press would like one for the cap of each member of the successful Patriot's Day Committee.

The Press hereby extends congratulations and asks a bow from each member of this fine committee:

Board of Selectmen, Joseph A. Purcell, chairman; Marcus L. Sorensen, Edmund L. Frost.

William S. Batchelor, general chairman; Dorothy M. Lucas, secretary; Edward W. Murphy, Jr., assistant secretary.

Legislative Committee, Representative Henry E. Keenan, chairman.

Military Units for Parade, Mrs. Stanley R. Kingman, chairman. Program, Frank O'Hara chairman.

Religious Services, Mrs. Gordon Williams, chairman.

Floats for parade, William Craig, chairman.

Scandinavian Night At Crosby P.T.A.

Scandinavian Night at the Crosby Parent Teachers' Association marked the climax of this year's "Brotherhood" series. As has been the case at every meeting this year, the hall was filled to capacity and the program was entertaining as well as inspiring.

Quite an atmosphere was created before the meeting when Leonard Johnson, age 10, sat alone on the stage, playing appropriate melodies on the accordion. First on the program was a movie entitled "Wings Over Vikingland", showing the marvelous beauty of Sweden, Norway, and Denmark.

Mr. Albert O. Wilson, who was Swedish Consul in Boston for 8 years and who is also a musician and business man, talked about the Scandinavian countries. He brought out the fact that underneath the differences in language and customs, the peoples of Europe are all the same, with the same aspirations, hopes, and ideals. He reminded the audience that American culture stems from the heritage of the older countries of Europe whence our ancestors came. In speaking of Sweden's reputation for generosity and tolerance, he cited the fact that Sweden took in over half a million refugees during the war, no matter what their race or creed. This was a gigantic number in proportion to Sweden's population which is seven million. Sweden also smuggled nine thousand Jews out of Denmark when the Germans began their persecution of the Jews in that country. These were only two examples that Mr. Wilson gave of Sweden's tolerance for all peoples and their great defense of individual rights and freedom.

The next program, Mrs. Raymond McKeever, president of the Crosby P. T. A., introduced to the audience people in Swedish, Norwegian and Finnish costume. Among these was Miss Holand, who came here from Norway three weeks ago for a visit. She is a sister of Mrs. Sognnaes of Arlington. Speaking in Norwegian and then in English, she brought greetings from Norway.

One of the highlights of the evening was the singing of Mrs. Ellen Haapala, who gave several folk-songs from Norway, Finland and Sweden. Mrs. Haapala, of Finnish descent, sang the Finnish song in her native tongue. The Norwegian composer Edward Grieg was honored in one song. Mr. Roy Helander, also of Finnish descent, accompanied Mrs. Haapala on the piano and played a Danish Humoresque and "Finlandia" by Sibelius.

There were charming Scandinavian folk dances including a polka, schottisch and homboe, performed in costume by Edlar Cedar Leonore Hulteen, Curt Lundgren and Carlton Hulteen. They were accompanied on the accordion by Ralph Johnson. The dancers are members of the Swedish Folk-Dancing Club. The meeting ended with Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Haapala singing "Du Gamla du Fris" in Swedish, the audience joining in. Mr. Wilson then led in singing "God Bless America" which was done with a great deal of enthusiasm and warmth of feeling.

Swedish, Danish, Norwegian and Finnish flags decorated the walls of the stage. Beautiful floral decorations were donated by Nils Anderson. Refreshments were served in the gym in the traditional Scandinavian "Coffee Table" style. There was a lavish display of all kinds of handwork, hand-blown glass, and metal.

Members of the Scandinavian committee under the chairmanship of Nils Werner were Mesdames Collins, King, Peterson, Scribner, Frederickson, Lindall, Segelstrom, Carlson, Hanson, Anderson, Pearson, Gere, Moller, Bibaux, Lawson, Kiley, Canniff Campbell and Mahoney.

In inaugurating this year's programs on the theme of "Brotherhood", the Crosby P. T. A. felt that something might be done on a small scale to eradicate the prejudices of future generations by helping parents to rid themselves of their own prejudices. It was hoped that contact with other nationalities and further understanding of the ways and customs of other people, through movies and speakers, would help the cause of active brotherhood. Plans are being made to continue these programs featuring different nationalities and minority groups next year.

The parade went on past the reviewing stand and swung right down the avenue to Lake street. The original schedule of the parade was to disband at Wyman Terrace but it was thought that many people than could be comfortably fitted into the original area, would attend the parade, so the line of march was extended to Lake street in East Arlington. Even without any advance publicity of the change the route was lined with hundreds of watchers from Wyman Terrace, down to East Arlington.

When the parade had ended, Senator Leverett Saltonstall told the PRESS, "The festivities and parade here in Arlington were typical of the patriotism of the people of Massachusetts and the part Arlingtonians played in the history of our country. The parade was historical in the showing put on by the floats of events gone past and the display by the military of our present strength. Arlington deserves all the praise one can give for the wonderful parade presented and this overwhelming turnout of patriotic people."
